It's good to note that Raymond B. Archer has been asked to represent Appomattox County on the Feeder Pig Marketing Steering Committee.

This committee is concerned with the possibility of establishing a feeder pig market in Southside Virginia. There has been some discussion about one sale organization operating sales in two locations.

We'll be hearing more about this aspect of pig marketing.

Hold it !!! If you were planning to attend or send someone to the VPI Milking School - don't, the dates have changed.

Percy Thompson tells me that his Kentucky 170 plants are the best looking plants he has growing. We'd talking with Percy about growing an acre of this new variety, but I now find out he has two acres out.

Kentucky 170 has looked pretty good in the tests and I felt we should take a look at it under field conditions. We're not recommending it yet. However, I'm sure growers will be interested in seeing how it performs this year.

If you're growing soybeans this year, here's a deal you will not want to miss!!

The top soybean producers in Virginia this year will receive a trip to Europe for two.

Someone is going to get this trip and I'd like mighty well for it to be an Appomattox farmer. We can certainly compete with any growers in Virginia.

The 1970 wool clip will be delivered June 10 in Lynchburg. Wool is up 4¢ per pound over last year.

Dr. Leroy Bowen told me Monday morning that the Hog Cholera quarantine was still on the Cloverhill section of Appomattox and would probably remain for another week or ten days. When it is lifted a letter will go out to swine producers.

The bristle cone pine is the oldest living tree in the world.

A 4900 year old bristle cone pine was recently found in east central Nevada. This tree compares with the oldest known redwood, General Sherman, which is only 3500 years old.

There are several interesting facts about this tree. The wood is soft and brittle and is not used commercially. The needles of each seasons growth persist for 12 to 14 years. Most other pines drop their needles in 2 to 3 years.

Cattle slaughtered are up about 30,000 from the same time last year, but prices are off about 4¢ per pound.

Feeder cattle prices continue to remain strong.

Firemen Need Oxygen Masks

Each $1.00 donation to the Appomattox Volunteer Fire Dept. in their current drive for funds will go toward purchase of self-contained oxygen masks. Each mask costs $347 plus an additional $76 for a spare tank. The masks are essential "life savers" according to Harold Carter, Fire Dept. reporter.

A donation puts a donor's name in a box for a drawing July 25 at 7 p.m. of a TV, percolator or a toaster.

DEPARTING WORDS

My life is drifting, drifting like the sand that is constantly shifting;
The pains of my body are easing, easing to the pains of death when life is ceasing.
But yet I'm relying, relying upon the Saviour in whom I'm confiding;
Even though I'm dying, dying, I'm with spirit inspiring.
